Announcements:

At our next meeting, please come prepared to give our showcase presenter a lead or any ideas of how to get a lead!

We will be putting together our new DAPN brochure. Please check last year's brochure and add or subtract any changes you would like to make. Paul will be passing around last year's brochure for you to initial.

I have ask whoever is presenting their showcase for the week, please give me at least three points that they would like me to have included in the weekly minutes.

This week's showcase presenter is Ben Rigg of the Law Office of Benjamin Rigg

Last time Ben spoke he talked about the timeline of an average case. This week Ben spoke on the different people involved in a case and how that is important. One is the prosecutor. He has the authority to press charges or not press charges. Either by an indictment or by filing. Another group in the process is the Grand Jury. The Grand Jury can issue certain charges. The prosecutor can lead the Grand Jury to indict or not to indict. And still another individual in this process is the police. Ben asked, is there every a good time to talk to the police if you are directly involved in a case? And his answer was definitely no! The Miranda states anything you say can be used against you-not to help you. These are just three of the individuals Ben touched on today. Ben's showcase was very informative and interesting. Thanks Ben Next week's showcase presenter will be Tom Robbins. And in two weeks Kevin Rose is up.

We still have quite a few members who need to pay their yearly dues. Please get this in to Joe ASAP!
