This week's showcase was being presented by J. Van Houten of J. Van Houten Inc.

-Jay started out informing us of his background. He attended Wright State. He did some painting while in school

-After school he worked at NCR in a cubicle that drove him crazy

-He then managed a health club for 2 years-Didn't care for that and quit

-In August of 1985 he started painting full time and hasn't looked back in 31 years. Beside himself he has five full time employees on the payroll

-He then talked a little about some of the painting side of his company, plus

how the prep work is the most important part of the job and how they leave the job site cleaner than when they started

We drew two names for next month's facilitators. Dave Rosengarten is one. I am waiting to hear back from Gaelan for the other

We had 10 leads-keep up the good work
